

NO REQUEST FOR A NORMAL HERE

Regents Fail To Make Recommendation In Their Building Program

From Madison comes the news that the building program of the state normal school regents for the next two years has been presented to the state board of education with only a partial prospect of its being recommended.

The entire program calls for an expenditure of about $650,000 in two years, to be distributed in nine cities. No recommendation for the new normal school in Rhinelander is made in the request by the regents.

Gov. E. L. Philipp has stated that he will not favor the construction of any new buildings or extensive additions while materials remain at their present price, but has said that he would vote for any improvements which seem to be immediately necessary.

The recommendation of the board of education is not final, the legislature having the last say, after it receives the recommendation of the joint finance committee.

The requests are as follows: Platteville, for repairs and improvements in heating plant, $15,000.

LaCrosse, for addition to physical education building, $20,000. This original request is cut to $6,500.

Whitewater, for a new commerce building, $80,000.

Oshkosh, for training school building, $75,000.

Superior, for temporary gymnasium, $10,000; for library, $110,000.

Stevens Point, for science building, $100,000.

Milwaukee, for new wing $100,000; for boiler house and tunnel, $35,000.

River Falls, for heating plant, $35,000; for manual training and agricultural work, $90,000.

Eau Claire, for surroundings of building, $10,000 to $15,000.

CELEBRATES HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

Hon. D. B. Stevens, a former prominent and esteemed resident of Rhinelander and father of Senator W. T. Stevens, celebrated his eightieth birthday in St. Mary's, Idaho, January 24th. The St. Mary's Gazette contained the following:

Our worthy citizen, the Hon. D. B. Stevens, celebrated his eightieth birthday, on Wednesday, January 24th, at the home of his daughter, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Flagg.

There were present his daughter, Mrs. A. L. Dunn and husband from Seattle; his son Charles from Coeur d'Alene; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herrick, Mr. and Mrs. Hogue, from St. Mary's.

A royal dinner was served at 6:30. The decorations were in yellow, consisting of tulips and lilies to correspond with the artistic tableware. At the close of the repast suitable remarks and toast was given by Mr. A. L. Dunn, and responded to by the honored guest of the occasion giving a brief history of his long life.

Among the notable events were his birth, marriage and the major part of his public life of three terms in the legislature of Wisconsin. Music came in order and was furnished by solos from Mr. Hogue and Mrs. Flagg, and an appropriate song by the company.

B. E. LEE WEDS CHICAGO GIRL

Bernard E. Lee of this city and Miss Winifred Peterson of Chicago were united in matrimony by Rev. Fr. Beaudette at St. Mary's parsonage in this city Wednesday afternoon January 31. They have commenced housekeeping on Margaret street where the groom has fitted a comfortable home.

The bride is a stranger in Rhinelander, but has made a very favorable impression among those who have met her. She is a trained nurse and was engaged in that profession in St. Bernard's hospital, Chicago.

Mr. Lee came to Rhinelander from Rice Lake, Wis., last June and engaged in business here at 1 W. Davenport street. He has made a large number of friends during his residence here who extend congratulations to him and his bride.

MARRIED IN CHICAGO
Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hart returned Wednesday from Chicago where they attended the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ethel, and Mr. Julius Gerber. The ceremony was performed Sunday afternoon and was followed by a banquet at the Hotel LaSalle.

WOODSMAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Bruce Tuttle Grows Despondent And Slashes Throat With Razor

With the throat cut from ear to ear the body of Bruce Tuttle, an old woodsman who has made Rhinelander his home for many years, was found lying in an old shack about 10 miles north of city, off the Sugar Camp road, Wednesday morning. The gruesome discovery was made by Robert Gethell, a logger of this city. Near the body was a razor, the weapon which the unfortunate man had used to end his life. He had evidently been dead about five days.

A note, which was picked up in the shack, and written with a lead pencil in a scrawly hand, read as follows:

"I think Tom Doyle is as good a man as can be found on earth. I tried hard to stand up but my feet and legs would not hold me. My back is gone too."—Bruce.

Bruce Tuttle was about 62 years of age. The greater share of his life had been spent in the lumber and logging industry. At one time he was reputed to have been in fairly well to do circumstances. He had long been employed by Tom Doyle of this city, which accounts for his reference to Mr. Doyle in the note. Of late Mr. Tuttle had frequently complained of being sick, and had gone to the shack, in which his corpse was found, for the purpose of recuperating. His rash act was evidently due to despondency brought on by illness.

Coroner J. J. Nick deemed an inquest unnecessary and the body was brought to this city Wednesday afternoon. Nothing is known concerning Mr. Tuttle's relatives.

MATT REED FOUND DEAD IN BED

Matt Reed, an old resident of Oneida county, who has for the last four years made his home at the Alpine Hotel, was found dead in bed at seven o'clock Monday morning. For a year or more Mr. Reed had been ailing, although Sunday night, when he retired, he did not complain of feeling any worse than usual and his sudden death came as a shock to his friends.

Matt Reed was said to be about 85 years of age. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, and regarding his people little is known, although relatives are said to reside in New York state. Thirty years ago he was employed by the old Lake Shore Railway company in this city and later located in Woodruff where he was engaged in the mercantile business until his retirement four years ago.

Mr. Reed had a large acquaintance throughout this vicinity. He was a man of many excellent qualities and a sincere christian. He had accumulated sufficient means to permit himself every comfort in his declining years and up to the time of his illness apparently enjoyed life to the fullest.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's church Wednesday morning.

MONEY SPENT FOR CITY STREETS GOOD ECONOMY

(By Mayor Grant V. Clark)

In a series of articles which I have promised to write for the New North, it is my purpose to discuss things which ought to be of interest to every taxpayer—things which the taxpayers have a right to know; and things which I, as a representative of the present city administration am perfectly willing for them to know. In the present article I shall speak of street improvements made the past season. The levy for street work was $60,000. There was spent some thing like $11,000. This, of course, includes considerable work done on sidewalks which has been returned to the city in the form of a special tax on the abutting property. I claim that $60,000 was an inadequate levy. As this was made by a former administration the present administration was justified in exceeding this levy in view of the fact that there was a large amount of street work that needed sorely to be done. I have heard it hinted that a considerable amount of the work done on the streets during the year of 1916 was unnecessary. To my mind any such criticism discloses a gross ignorance of the real conditions. However, I am perfectly willing for the taxpayers to be the judges. I will indicate some of the streets that were improved last summer and fall, and then ask the readers to say whether they think the money spent on those improvements was unwisely spent. The following were the principle streets upon which a considerable amount of work was done: Phillip street (from Thayer street to the paper mill dam); Wabash street (from Kemp street East); South Oneida Ave. (from the N. W. R. to the hill near the Creamery); North Stevens street (from Harvey street to Pinos street); Minola street (nearly the full length); Monico street (from Pinos to Minola); Anderson street (from Rives street to the C. & N. W. station).

Ask any teamster who was obliged to drive over these streets if a single one of them was in a really passable condition prior to May 1st, 1916. West Phillip street is much travelled, especially by heavy traffic from the mills—a great amount of green slab wood, and heavy loads of lumber are hauled over this piece of road. All the traffic coming in from the Cassian road enters the city over this street. It was in bad shape last spring before work was commenced on it. It has since been graded and gravelled, and now we have a street that will stand the heavy traffic for a number of years. Wabash street on the south side was torn up by the laying of a sewer in 1915. After this it was practically impassable until graded and gravelled last summer. South Oneida Ave., running along the new Normal school site had been in a shameful condition since 1914, when a sewer was laid. No one acquainted with its condition will doubt that it has needed a heavy outlay of funds since the fall of 1914. It is one of the principle streets of the city; one over which there is much traffic, both of team and automobile. As this street abuts the Normal school site it ought to be a matter of satisfaction to every one interested in the welfare of Rhinelander that when the Normal Regents visited our city last fall they were conveyed over a well made street to view the proposed site. And yet there was no provisions made in the levy of 1915 for this important piece of work. North Stevens street, running by the Bottling Works, has needed rebuilding for several years. This street is marked out on road maps for four-ists to enter and leave the city for Robbins, Three Lakes, and Eagle River. Nineteen out of every twenty farmers entering the city from that whole region naturally choose this street to enter the city. Several years ago there was a petition before the council to have this street improved. Those who have had occasion to use it know that it has been in a disgraceful condition of late years. I am glad to say that we now have a well-made cinder road in place of the mud and ruts of former years. Minola street has never had much work done on it. And so far as I know there had not been a stroke of labor expended there (with the exception of putting in a culvert) for several years. Monico street from Pinos street to Minola has been merely a sand bed for years—a street that has had much traffic since it was made passable last summer. Anderson street from Rives street to the C. & N. W. station has been a series of mud-holes for years. Along this street are located many ware houses, and there is of necessity much traffic. Besides rendering the street impassable the mud holes have constituted a menace to the health of the community. This section of the street has been filled, and now there is, a fine cinder road sufficient to accommodate the heavy traffic for years to come. Some people discontinue slipping about "large expenditures" for street work, as though it were a thing uncalled for. The truth of the matter is that every administration that Rhinelander will have for ten years to come (if it shall be worth its salt) is bound to make comparatively heavy expenditures either in building or maintaining our city streets. And this no matter what form of government we shall have. Street building in Rhinelander is expensive on account of the natural topography of this section of country. Where there are hills to grade down and hollows to fill street building is bound to be expensive. Then too, our several miles of macadam streets constitute a problem that will give several administrations plenty to worry about. We all know now what none of us knew ten years ago, namely, that a water-bound macadam street is very unsatisfactory. It deteriorates rapidly under heavy automobile traffic, and heavy rains especially on slopes. One of the pressing problems right now is, What to do with our macadam streets? Some of them are almost beyond repair; others need the earliest possible attention. It is no time for any one who claims to have the interests of Rhinelander at heart to preach "light expenditures" for street work. There is almost an overwhelming amount of work pressing to be done at an early date, and it is a job for a united Rhinelander to get busy on. We have given too little thought to the subject of street maintenance. When a house has a leaky roof it is poor economy not to repair the roof. When a street shows signs of "going to pieces" it is poor economy not to do something to preserve it. "A stitch in time will save nine." In other words, maintenance of streets, even at a considerable cost, is economy in the end. With several miles of macadam streets sorely needing attention it is obvious that they cannot all be attended to in one year, or two years, especially when there are other streets that need the most immediate attention. There is a limit to what can be done in a single year. But to advocate a small levy for street work in Rhinelander for several years to come merely amounts to a fool's advice. The main thing will be to make every dollar count, and to keep the levy down to a reasonable figure.

REMO RESIGNS AS ASSESSOR

At the city council meeting Tuesday night the resignation of J. J. Remo, city assessor, was accepted. Otto Bonnie, city comptroller, whose office was abolished by the council, was immediately appointed by Mayor Clark to fill Mr. Remo's unexpired term.

The resignation of Mr. Remo came as no surprise as it was rumored some time ago that he intended to take this step. He was appointed to the office last spring by Mayor Clark shortly after the resignation of Assessor McKee.

Miss Pearl Sherman gave a show Tuesday evening for Miss Katherine Easton, who is about to be married to Richard Knox.

SIGN MORE MONEY FOR NEW HOTEL

Stockholders Increase Capital And Elect Officers At Annual Banquet

Seventy-two stockholders and their friends banqueted last evening at the Oneida hotel which structure these stockholders and as many more not present recently caused to be erected.

A splendid meal was served after which W. E. Brown, president of the hotel company, called a business session of the stockholders to elect two new directors in place of E. A. Forbes and Arthur Taylor whose terms expired.

Mr. Brown gave a little history of the erection of the hotel and said the directors had done their best and then called upon Attorney Chas. F. Smith, the secretary, to read the minutes of the previous meeting and make the financial report on the cost of the purchase of the site and erection of the building, which Mr. Smith did in full. It was shown that the land and building cost approximately eighty-six thousand dollars which was all paid but about thirty-three thousand. Then an effort was made to raise more money which resulted in getting signatures for about four hundred dollars more. Then E. A. Forbes and Arthur Taylor were re-elected as directors for three years.

The directors retained the old officers as follows:

W. E. Brown, President.

M. H. Raymond, Treasurer.

F. S. Robbins, Vice President.

Charles F. Smith, Secretary.

When the meeting was over all went to their homes feeling a pride in the fact that Rhinelander is now equipped with one of the best hostleries in the state.

FREIGHT RATES TO BE LOWERED

Rhinelander lumber dealers, manufacturers and other business men who are extensive patrons of railroad freight departments, are rejoicing over the decision given by the Wisconsin Railroad Commission in the Tittmore freight rate case. Beginning May 1, according to the decision, the freight rates of the state will be subjected to a material reduction. Among the more important conclusions reached by the decision are:

The present maximum distance tariff for Wisconsin is superceded by a new distance class rate tariff for the whole state.

Rates are materially low for the first and fourth classes. Classes from one to four apply to less than carload lots.

The present rates are held to be unreasonably high.

Carriers are required to establish joint rates between all points in the state of Wisconsin.

The decision becomes effective May 1st.

The reductions range all the way from five to thirty per cent, depending upon the classes. Annual savings may approximate $100,000.

One of the greatest features of the decision applies to the joint rates which the commission has ordered to be established on all of the carriers. It was found that while there were at present joint rates between some of the railroads for part of Wisconsin, some of these joint rates being at present on a favorable basis, that for the larger part of the state there existed no joint rates at all and that where a shipment had to be made over two roads, it could only be made for the sum of the locals.

The commission fixed a basis for joint rate schedules which makes them considerably lower than before.

The decision becomes effective May 1st.

STATE ROAD MEN HONOR PARKER

F. E. Parker, Oneida county highway commissioner, was elected president of the Wisconsin Highway Commissioners' association at the annual convention of that body in Madison last week. This honor conferred upon Mr. Parker is a recognition of his ability as a road man and his popularity among the members of the association.

Mr. Parker says that this year's road meeting was one of the most largely attended and successful in the history of the association. All highway commissioners in the state were present as were also a large number of county committeemen.

Many matters of importance pertaining to the road men and their duties were considered and every one profited from the discussions.

BOYS' GYM WILL RUN SAYS WEDGE

Athletic Work To Continue While Pastor Is On Lecture Tour

(By Rev. F. R. Wedge)

The boys' gymnasium which was made possible through the contributions of many of the business men of Rhinelander will continue to serve the boys of this city through the officers of the Rhinelander Amateur Athletic Association. The following men who have been elected as officers will have supervision:

Lee Bastian, President.

Harve Tuttle, Vice Pres.

Clarence Hubbard, Secretary.

Chas. Carlson, Treasurer.

These men will secure a physical director to instruct the boys. I want the boys and young men to know that I am still interested in them but I believe that my duty to my family requires that I accept lecture engagements that will help me pay financial obligations I have been forced to enter into because of insufficient salary from church and gymnasium. My family and I have done all we feel we can possibly do—we have been cold and hungry for other people's boys, even though their parents have not always understood our motives.

I shall continue to put personal money into the boy's work here until such a time as Rhinelander can build a Y. M. C. A. Nobody but God and Mrs. Wedge, my beloved companion, knows what these nine months in Rhinelander have cost me, in body, mind and soul, yet I wish for Rhinelander my boyhood home, the best that God has in store and shall in my farewell sermon at the Baptist church Sunday evening try to express in prayer and good wishes the hope that some day Rhinelander will have a Y. M. C. A. for the boys of this city.

NO LOOKING BACK IN RHINELANDER

New Evidence Constantly Being Published

Since the long succession of Rhinelander reports were first published in the local press there has been no looking back. Rhinelander evidence continues to pour in, and—better still—those whose reports were first published many years ago, verify all they said in a most hearty and unmistakable way. Read the experience of Mr. J. E. Russ, 821 Wabash St., Rhinelander, says: "Hoisting logs brought a strain on my back that resulted in backache and pains through my loins. When I lay down and in the morning when I got up, my back was the most painful. My kidneys didn't act right and I had every reason to know that they were causing the suffering. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured the attack."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Russ said: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity. I have used this medicine since first recommending it, with the same good results."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Russ has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MINOCQUA

(From Minocqua Times)

The Minocqua Steam Laundry owned by Fred Zentner of this city is now ready for operation. The equipment, which has been installed in a new building erected on the East Side, is entirely new and should give excellent service. The machinery includes everything that is necessary to run an up-to-date steam laundry. The management has closed contracts with the larger resorts of this section and looks forward to a very profitable year. Mrs. Gus Nolan entertained a large number of her lady friends at her home Wednesday night in honor of her niece, Miss Grace Nolan, who left today for Denver after spending the past several months here. The evening was spent in playing cards, and dainty refreshments were served. Miss Nolan was presented with a beautiful cut glass cologne bottle.

Last Friday, engineer Kuneit, who is employed by the C. M. & St. P. R. R., was severely injured when he fell from his engine, which was taking water on the Rice Creek bridge, to the ice below, a distance of about twenty feet. He was taken to the Tomahawk Hospital by special train.

Wm. Hoffman, who had the misfortune to break his leg while skating, returned to resume his duties Monday as principal of the grades after an absence of two months. His many friends, including his pupils, were glad to welcome him back.

A. DeNoyer, Standard Oil man at this place, sold his horses, sleigh and harnesses to Frank Melang, Monday. The Standard Oil Co. will furnish Mr. DeNoyer with a truck to be used in delivering their products.

Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy because of very much lower prices offered by the English bidders.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515,000. Up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although we have expended, in wages, materials, etc., on these orders $522,531, and we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition, a formal interpretation of the contract might make us liable for penalties amounting to $678,816.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

BUCKNAM ASKS SOME QUESTIONS

(Questions by A. R. Bucknam)
We would be pleased if the readers of the New North would send answers to one or more of the following questions:
How does the liquor traffic increase the laboring man's pay check?
Why should men with grown up sons favor keeping the saloons in Rhinelander?
Why is it that nearly every good business town is a saloon town?
Does good business and prosperous saloons go together?
Does alcohol increase the joys of men or add to their sorrow?
Which should have their personal liberty, the child to a glass of milk or the man to a glass of beer? which one must be deprived?
What great benefit to the farmers of Oneida county is the Rhinelander brewery?
Which should we be most concerned about, the one hundred and thirty thousand dollars we pay the saloons or the thirteen thousand dollars they pay us?
Do saloons tend to increase or decrease the consumption of alcohol?
Is there plenty of work or saloon atmosphere that brings men to Rhinelander?
Why do the liquor interests try to keep saloons in a prosperous town and are less active in keeping them in a dead town to make it prosperous?
Why have most of the states surrounding Kansas voted dry?
If the liquor traffic increases the efficiency of men—why do the rail road companies try to keep their men out of saloons?
Would good homes reduce the attendance at saloons?
Four industries pay to their laborers about six hundred thousand dollars a year in Rhinelander,

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

Every loyal American should stand with the President of the U. S. in this critical time. We do not want war; President Wilson does not want war; his past record shows this. Even though the president has been called coward he has aimed to guide the ship of state clear of the rock of war. Be loyal to the President and loyal to your country.

Walter C. Owen, Attorney General, has announced his candidacy for the office of Justice on the supreme court against Judge Marshall who is up this spring for re-election.

Owen belongs to the new school of lawyers who believe in the rights of the masses and we believe should be elected.

Judge Marshall is an old man of the old school. Judge Marshall is seventy years old, well to do and should retire for a younger man. It would seem that the voters would support Attorney General Owen in this contest.

Although published in a town of far less than 1,000 population, the Prentice News-Calumet is one of the nearest and newest exchanges coming to our desk. The paper has just added an Ogema department which will be appreciated not only in Ogema but throughout Price county. This department, aside from carrying several columns of live Ogema news, has a generous amount of advertising. Messrs. Prentice and Grimm, who publish the News-Calumet, are to be congratulated for their enterprise.

HIGH PAPER COST

The federal trade commission, it is reported, is prepared to fix the responsibility for the present high cost of paper, not on any shortage of materials, but on the manufacturers of paper.

According to a statement made on the floor of the house by Representative Barnhart of Indiana, the commission in its forthcoming report will state that the cost per hundred pounds for the manufacture of paper in 1915 was $1.63, whereas in 1916 it was but $1.63 1/2 a hundred.

As against this comparatively small increase in cost, the commission also will find that the manufacturers have boosted the price to the consumer, according to Mr. Barnhart, as high as 400 per cent, and not infrequently 100 and 200 per cent.

ANOTHER BOAT SENT TO BOTTOM

Washington, Feb. 7.—Consul General Frost reported from Queenstown tonight that the Californian had been sunk by a torpedo without warning. One American, who was known to be on the ship, was reported saved. The loss of life is not known. The saving of life of the American practically ends the incident, it is intimated here.

New York, Feb. 7.—Thirteen ships were listed up to a late hour tonight as additional toll of unrestricted—boat warfare. Twelve are believed to have been sent to the bottom during the last twenty-four hours, one was sunk last Sunday but was only reported today.

The total tonnage of those of the thirteen vessels listed in the marine records is 26,533 tons. With the tonnage of four unnamed vessels included in the list and one not listed in the official records, the total is believed to be around 30,000 tons. This brings the aggregate tonnage destroyed since Feb. 1 to approximately 110,000 tons.

The largest vessel reported sunk today was the British liner California of the Anchor line, 8,662 tons, bound from New York for Glasgow.

Gerard On Way Home
Washington, Feb. 7.—Ambassador Gerard is at Berne, Switzerland according to a dispatch received at the state department today from Ambassador Willard at Madrid. Coincident with this information, indicating that the United States ambassador to Germany was safe and on his way home, the state department took action looking for the transportation home of Ambassador Bernstorff and his suite.

SENATE UPHOLDS WILSON'S ACTION

Washington, Feb. 7.—The senate today endorsed President Wilson's breaking off of relations with Germany by a vote of 78 to 5.

Two Democratic senators—Vardaman and Kirby—announced at the outset that they would not vote for the indorsement, as did one Republican—Works of California.

Other senators who objected to the president's action announced that they would vote for the indorsement for the sake of national unity. All, however, pledged their support if the country went to war.

Mrs. H. C. Braeger is seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on Grant street.

W. D. Juday, county representative and Mrs. Juday are in Madison this week attending Farmers' Week.

OPPOSE GOVERNOR'S BILL

Last week, the Governor's bill to change the manner of choosing the secretary of state, the state treasurer and the attorney general was opposed in committee of the legislature by every stalwart, but was favored by the one socialist and the democrat. Some of the governor's most ardent supporters opposed this bill.

The very men who were expected to favor the bill opposed it. It is quite a radical step to give the governor power to appoint officers formerly chosen by the electors of the state. Especially would this be so in case of the state attorney general who should be independent of the governor in his conduct.

Of course, the secretary of state and the state treasurer are simply administrative officers and we feel their manner of choice would be of little matter, but the attorney general should be free to do his duty as he sees it—the very fact that he would be made dependent on the governor for his appointment might be the means of hampering him.

STAND BY WILSON

Adolph Kraus, the lawyer, a native of Pilsen, for many years identified with reform associations in Chicago, says there is no question of how the German-Americans will line up.

"I fervently hope we will not go into war with Germany," he said. "But if a complete break comes there is no question of where we will stand. I have lived here fifty years. I expect to be buried here. My children were born here. Our careers have been made in this country. My and mine and all I know will be found loyal to the United States. The president is the judge, not we. Whatever his decision, we stand by it."—Chicago Tribune.

Friendship Without Alloy

Friendship, to be valuable, must be uttered, just as gold must be pure to be really gold. Every grain of alloy pulls the assay down. If your friend is but moderately your friend, and not altogether your friend; if his eyes look into yours with any lack of frankness or confidence; if he commits himself to you guardedly and stands for you only part of the time; if he can listen unprotestingly when others speak slightlying of you, his alleged friendship is of no real avail.—Richard Wrightman.

Beam in the Eye

Many a child, as well as some older persons, has puzzled over that "beam" in the eye of which the New Testament speaks. It is not always understood that this means a beam of light. But it was left to Solomon Bernhard, in his wood cuts illustrating the Bible, published at Lyons in 1553, to picture this beam as one of wood, rectangular in section, and several feet in length!

AGAINST SALARY RAISES

At the regular meeting of the council Tuesday evening, the regular bills were allowed. An attempt was made to boost the salaries of the police department and all but the chief of the fire department. Mayor Clark asked President Will Gilligan to take the chair, and showed that the present salaries are as high as in other cities of this size and gave notice that any attempt to boost these salaries would be vetoed by him.

After the Mayor's speech no further effort was made to boost these salaries.

ELEVEN STRIVE FOR POOL HONORS

Willett and Shiller won first prize at the handicap 14 rack tournament played at Taylor's pocket billiard academy. Art Pecor won second honors with Labelle and Thorbordon tied for third place. The games were well attended and everything worked smoothly from start to finish. Eleven players entered the contest, playing a total of 50 games. Several cases of buck fever developed in the early part of the contest that proved disastrous to the afflicted players in the end. Mr. Taylor announces that the tournament will be an annual affair.

The honors of the game go to Art Pecor, with a high run of 25, also best game pocketing 50 balls in 6 innings with an average of 8 1/2, the high mark of the tournament.

The surprise of the tournament was little Jimmy, who won in a canter the first two times up, when he hit the toboggan and slid all the way down for seven straight games; that put him on the blink right, Jimmy says: "watch me bring home the bacon in the next tournament."

Prof. LaBelle has taken several of the young players under his wing to teach them the fine points of the game; all will be contenders in the "Rotation tournament" to be had during the month of March.

Bullier, the lame duck that blew every game he played, was presented with a package of Bull as a consolation prize.

The scratch man had everything his own way until he ran up against the short ends who succeeded in hanging the Indian signs on him for three straight games. The impost 50 to 30 was rather heavy. On the other hand some say that he figured a tie for first place and gracefully slipped the big juicy purse all by himself.

Alex says that it is a problem in mathematics to figure how Art always loses and LaBelle always wins when playing practice games.

TAKE OUT GREASE SPOTS

Blemishes That So Greatly Annoy the Housekeeper May Be Effectively Dealt With.

Grease spots may be removed by the application of carbon tetrachloride, according to H. F. Zoller, assistant in chemistry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"Removing grease spots with gasoline or benzine is both dangerous and wasteful," said Mr. Zoller. "Chloroform is effective, but is dangerous. Carbon tetrachloride is used by cleaners because of its safety, cleaning power and the absence of a disagreeable odor. The disadvantage is its expense.

"Ink is difficult to remove if it has been in the garment for some time. Iron inks may be removed by oxalic, acetic, citric, or dilute hydrochloric acids. In case of the coal-tar inks, the spot must be bleached.

"Iron rust can be removed by fairly strong oxalic acid solution, if allowed to stand on the goods for a short time, and often when it is exposed to the sunlight the action is a little quicker. The excess of oxalic acid must be washed out, and the goods washed with a good soap, in order to neutralize the acid. Hydrochloric acid is the best remover of iron rust, if handled by an experienced person.

"An excellent formula for the removal of fountain-pen ink, especially iron ink and iron rust, is the aceto-oxalic acid formula. It is made by saturating a 10 per cent acetic acid solution with oxalic acid, and mixing one part of the product with four parts of alcohol."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To induce a canary to take a bath sprinkle a few seeds upon the water. This added attraction will make the bath become a habit with the little fellow.

To keep flowers fresh, place a pinch of bicarbonate of soda in the water before putting them into a vase.

To make glassware clear and sparkling, add a little washing Mue to the soapwater when washing.

If ink is spilled on the carpet or table cover, cover it immediately with salt as it absorbs the ink.

Powdered alum added to ordinary stove blacking adds to its brilliancy.

Oxalic acid and Javelle water are excellent for removing ink stains.

New tinware will never rust if greased with a little fresh lard and baked in the oven before it is used.

Corn Chowder

One can corn, four cupfuls potatoes cut in one-quarter-inch slices, one and one-half-inch cube fat salt pork, one sliced onion, four cupfuls scalded milk, eight common crackers. Cut pork in small pieces and try out. Add onion and cook five minutes, stirring often that onion may not burn. Strain fat into a stewpan. Parboil potatoes five minutes in boiling water to cover, drain and add potatoes to fat; then add two cupfuls boiling water; cook until potatoes are soft, add corn and milk, then heat to boiling point. Season with salt and pepper and butter and crackers, split and soaked in enough cold milk to moisten. Remove crackers, turn chowder into a tureen and put crackers on top.

Colonial Cake

One-half cupful butter, one and a quarter cupfuls granulated sugar, three eggs, half cupful thin cream or rich milk, half even teaspoonful soda, one even teaspoonful cream tartar, two cupfuls of pastry flour, half cupful seeded raisins. Add whites of eggs last and bake in tube pan. When cold frost with a heavy white icing that will contrast prettily with the yellow of the cake. Citron sliced in thin strips may be used instead of raisins, or in combination with them.

Chocolate Pie

Four tablespoonfuls cocoa, one pint of water, yolks of two eggs, two tablespoonfuls cornstarch, six tablespoonfuls sugar. Boil until thick, add one tablespoonful vanilla. Bake the crust, pour in the chocolate. Beat the whites of the eggs with one cupful of sugar, spread over top and brown. One teaspoonful of baking powder in one-half cupful granulated sugar added to the white of one egg stiffly beaten makes a fluffy meringue.

Cornmeal Muffins

Sift together one cupful cornmeal, one cupful bread flour, one teaspoonful soda (level) in one cupful sour milk, and add it to the sifted ingredients. Then add one-quarter cupful molasses, then two eggs, to 1/2 tablespoonfuls melted dripping. Beat well and bake in well-greased muffin pans about one-half hour in moderately hot oven. Makes 12.

Graham Drop Biscuits

One pint graham flour, one-half cupful white flour, one level teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful salt, one tablespoonful sugar, one egg, one tablespoonful thick cream and enough sour milk or buttermilk to make a stiff batter. Have gem pans hot and well greased. These are fine.

Baked Salmon Wiggle

One can of salmon, one-half can of peas, butter size of egg, salt and pepper, milk sauce. Bake about one-half hour.

White Sauce.—One pint milk, small piece butter, salt, thicken with heaping teaspoonful flour.

Rice Soup

Add a cupful of boiled rice to one quart of heated soup stock. Stir until it comes to a boil, season with pepper, salt and parsley or anything you like.

PREDICTS END OF WORLD SOON

Elder F. Stebbins, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church in Clearwater Lake, this county, says that strikes, wars, famines, pestilences, and disturbances on land and sea are signs that the end of the world is approaching. To the New North Rev. Stebbins sends the following contribution:

Never before were the nations so distressed with perplexing problems and conditions. Never before was the sea so tempestuous and perilous, nor did the waves rise and roar so ominously. And never before were men's hearts so filled with fear and dread of what is coming. The strikes, wars, droughts, famines, pestilences, plagues, cyclones, storms, tidal waves, earthquakes, and eruptions which have already occurred fill them with fear for what may yet be in store.

And truly these fears are not groundless. The things that have been are only omens of what is coming. Just as Christ is about to begin His reign and come to gather to Himself the subjects of His kingdom, He says, through the prophet Daniel, "There shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation to that same time." Dan. 12:1. Before the end comes, He tells us, we shall hear of wars and rumors of wars. "Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places." All these, He says, are the beginnings of sorrows. Matt. 24:6-8. That is, these things will increase and conditions will grow worse and worse, until the world is full of sorrow.

All these things are before us and around us. These signs have been appearing all about; and the very next thing the Saviour mentions is this: "The powers of heaven shall be shaken. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory." Luke 21:26, 27. The shaking of the powers of heaven occurs in immediate connection with the coming of the Lord, so that this is not, in itself, a sign of the coming of the Lord, but is the convulsion of nature at His coming. We are now witnessing the very last signs. The coming of the Lord Himself is soon to follow.

Commenting upon the signs, the Saviour said: "And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh." Luke 21:28. "So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it (His coming) is near, even at the doors." Matt 24:33. So when the first signs appeared, those in the sun, moon, and stars, then redemption was drawing nigh. But now, when all the signs have appeared, and the very last ones are actually before us, we are to know that He is near, even at the door. This is the answer which the Lord has given to that question which every man is asking in his own heart and of his neighbor, "What do these things mean?" The Word of God says they mean that the harvest is ripe, that the end is near, and that the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. And His counsel to all, therefore, is "Get ready! get ready! get ready! 'Stablish your hearts.' "Sanctify the Lord of Hosts Himself." "Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning; and ye yourselves unto men that wait for their Lord, when He will return from the wedding; that when He cometh and knocketh, they may open unto Him immediately." Luke 12:35, 36.

Very sincerely yours,
ELDER F. STEBBINS,
Pastor of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

MARY CHANGES HER MIND

By LOUISE OLIVER.

As the train pulled into Meridian, Jack Painter's thoughts were also finishing a long journey of retrospection, a period covering five years, the exact time he had been away from home.

The thoughts had much to do with a girl, a girl whose picture fitted in the back of his new five-hundred-dollar watch. When he had left Meridian the photograph had adorned the case of a one-dollar watch. Thus had Jack's fortunes changed and he was wondering whether or not the change was a good one for him, and he was doubtful about the wisdom of telling of his luck.

To be plain, Mary had said she loved him but had refused to marry him until he made some money.

"Yes, Jack, I do love you and I'm willing to marry you—but not now," she had said.

"Why?" he insisted.

"Because you can't keep me very well."

"I'd like to know if I can't. I've a bully good place in Reedem's office, and when he dies all the law business will come to me."

"That's a long time ahead. And, anyhow, old Mr. Reedem never made much. Why, his wife has done all her own work always. And, look at her—what a plain little mouse of a woman she is with all the spunk that was in her knocked out."

"You don't love me!"

"I do. I love you so well I don't want to learn to hate you because I'm played out, and I don't want you to begin to despise me because I've lost my looks and spirit."

He thought it over, then took his savings out of the bank, said good-by to Mary and left town.

The train slowed down and stopped.

"By Jove, I'll do it!" Jack had thought over a plan of finding out a few things for himself.

He took a bus to the Commercial hotel, the poorest and cheapest of the three hostleries in the town, and breathed with relief when he found the lobby empty save for old man Stebbins himself.

"Hello, there! Bless my heart if it isn't Jack Painter. And look how he's all lit up. Heard you struck it rich, Jack?"

"Sh!" Jack put a hand to his lips. "Give me a room, Stebbins, will you, and come up; I want to have a talk."

And after a while the old man came down and telephoned for Steve Lovall. Steve came around, went up to Jack's room and before long came down with a big fat check in his pocket.

That day Mary Fielding was reading in the lawn swing when Polly Marshall drove up the walk and ran in excitedly.

"Oh, Mary, have you heard the news? Jack Painter's home and he's working in old Mr. Reedem's office again. It's all a mistake about his getting along so well and I guess he's glad to get back. Mercy! What's wrong, Mary? You look like a ghost. There was't anything serious, was there, between you and Jack?"

"No—oh, no! I'm not feeling very well, that's all, Polly."

"And that's not all the news?" declared the gossip with importance and meaning. "Maybe you'll be more interested in this, since you've been seeing so much of Steve. Some lady, died and left him heaps of money."

Polly left, but Mary sat silent and thoughtful.

She waited two days, but he neither came nor called up. The third morning she walked past the dingy old law office; and as luck had it, Jack was just leaving for lunch.

"Hello, Mary! Gee, I'm glad to see you!" he held out his hand.

"You seem to be. Have you forgotten where I live?"

"No, but—well, you see I didn't think I'd be welcome."

"You used to be, didn't you?"

"Yes, but I didn't know how things were. Besides I—I've come back poor, Mary."

"Oh, well," pretending not to get his meaning, "you're just in style in this town. Come anyway."

He looked down at his shabby clothes. "All right. But maybe I'll run into Steve."

"No, you'll not run into Steve."

"But he inherited a fortune!"

"I don't care. I told him not to come any more."

They had walked unconsciously to the end of the street and were on the road to the river.

Mary stopped under a scarlet oak tree. "Let's sit here a minute, Jack, I'm tired. Tell me something. Are you very, very poor, Jack?"

"Yes, Mary."

"And are you—do you care for anyone?"

"Just the person I told five years ago."

She looked away.

"Maybe if you were married, you'd get along better, if you had a wife willing to work!"

"Mary, what do you mean? Look at me!"

"I mean that I'm sorry I've been foolish and wasted five years of our lives."

"You love me enough to marry me now—as I am!"

"Yes, Jack dear. I've nearly died of loneliness!"

"Thank heaven!" he cried as he gathered her into his arms. "Mary, I'm not poor, I've made good and we're all the world to enjoy. I'm the happiest man alive!"

A representative of the Tubs Medicine Co., booked orders at Three Lakes last Wednesday.

C. Korzilius, who has been quite sick during the week with stomach trouble, is himself again.

N. Anderson who has been under the weather for some days, is up and around again.

On February 2, Ground Hog day, Wm. Bennett surprised one big Bruno looking for his shadow. He killed a large black bear.

Carl Korzilius and Chas. Helm were Gagen visitors on Friday. Carl went down to see a saw mill in operation.

A bunch of young folks gave Miss Florence Campbell a party last Friday evening. All enjoyed a fine time.

The village teachers gave a moving picture show at the school house Saturday evening. The little ones enjoyed the treat.

Mrs. Chas. Boehm is having a desperate tussle with the grip. Her husband, who is employed at Gagen has been summoned home.

Mrs. Wm. Bennett accompanied by Sammy spent several days in camp with Mr. Bennett, who is head cook at one of the Gagen Lumber Co's camps.

F. H. Piehl of Gagen Sundayed at Three Lakes. Fred is heavily interested in logging in this vicinity and is keeping his eyes open to see how things are moving on.

John Olkowski, Jr., who has spent the past ten days at Elmhurst returned home on Saturday. John is preparing to take an examination for operator in the C. & N. W.

We are sorry to note that our old friend and neighbor, Andrew Bergstad, has been under the weather for some time. Rheumatic troubles is the cause.

Mrs. Wm. J. Neu was summoned to Gagen on Thursday on account of the sudden illness of Mrs. Purdy. We are glad to note that Mrs. Purdy is much improved at this writing.

Miss Begna who visited at Three Lakes last week and enjoyed such jolly time, was suddenly taken ill with pneumonia at her home at Woodruff. We trust that she may speedily recover.

A delegation consisting of John Stypczynski, Albert Kozuta, W. Galembski, Frank Yonkanski and Joe Gorski were at Rhinelander last Tuesday where, it is understood, they met Bishop Koudelka of the Superior diocese.

The six months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Levandosky passed away Saturday morning. The little one suffered for several weeks. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church on Monday morning, Rev. Kalandyk officiating.

Miss Emma Korzilius who has been at Three Lakes for several weeks, received a telegram from Thief River Falls, offering her a good proposition to take charge of the piano at a Moving Picture Show. She accepted and departed on the first train.

Wm. Bonack is busily engaged in making arrangements for all the material to be used for the large summer home which he will build on Planting Ground Lake for Mr. Meyer of Milwaukee. The structure when complete will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

Leo View, who holds the position as head cook at the Kenney Bros. camp, carries the reputation as a first class, nifty, clean cook. If you would meet him at present his face would appeal to you that he was wiping the bottom of the frying pan on his face. The truth is, he is raising the first crop of whiskers.

Rev. Kalandyk of Rhinelander, conducted religious services at Three Lakes last Sabbath. Rev. Kalandyk administered well to his flock here and the cold waves and storms do not detain him from coming. He can feel assured that by far the greater majority of his membership appreciate his good work, and hope that he may be blessed with regaining health and strength, and he may spend many years with and among them.

Mike Bayen, who resides on Town Line lake, still believes that there will be a coroner's jury summoned at Town Line lake as soon as the ice goes out next spring. Several months ago he reported that some man broke through the ice near the canal toll house and feels positive that the man is under the ice. Thus far there has been no inquiries reached this locality for any missing man.

Wm. Anderson, the potato buyer, departed for Chicago with two carloads of spuds on Saturday. We understand he has had quite a time getting through as freight traffic was suspended down the line on account of the severe storms that have been raging during the week. If he succeeds in getting these two cars through without any frost bites he is a lucky "Bill".

A very sad accident happened last Sunday evening. Mrs. Kaylo our village principal, while descending a stairway at the Loe Hotel unfortunately fell when four steps from the bottom. In some manner she struck the bottom step with her back which put her in a helpless condition. Dr. Thorpe was promptly summoned and took charge of the case. As we go to press we learn that the injuries are not considered serious.

We take pleasure in announcing that we have been notified by Supt. Quigley of the Ashland Division, of the C. & N. W. Ry. Co., to the effect that as soon as spring opens up he will make some extensive improvements at the Three Lakes depot grounds. The item we recently published was brought to his attention and he promptly decided to co-operate with Three Lakes and make all the necessary improvements called for. Good for Quigley. He is a live wire.

The 7th, 8th, 10th and 11th grades of our village school gave an exhibition of their domestic science achievements. The school room was well filled with visiting mothers who with the teachers in charge made careful examinations of the various articles of sewing and found among the articles many which were a credit to the scholar who so ably performed the work. The visitors were provided with lunch which consisted of cocoa and cake—and the entire afternoon was very pleasantly spent.

ARTISTIC DESIGN OF SAW MILL LIFE

Daughter of Judge Reid Wins
Prize For Picture For Lumber Booklet

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 6.—Because she was the only artist offering a design which appeared to know what a real sawmill looked like, Miss Jeanette Reid, daughter of Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau, Wis., has won the prize for a new cover design for the official monthly bulletin of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association. The bulletin is issued each month as the official organ of the manufacturers of the entire country, and while the contents and statistical matter changes every month like any trade journal, the plan is to issue the publication with the same artistic cover each month, with the changing table of contents inset into the middle of the drawing, the only change from month to month.

Miss Reid's design is artistic as well as true to sawmill life. At the bottom of the cover design is a panel of three pictures, showing the forest, the piled boards in a lumber yard and a finished house. These are set in the background of which a silhouette of a saw mill seems to be the main motive. Outlines of trees to the left, on a background of orange, are contained on the right of the picture into a two-storied saw mill, with the burner showing against the white of a setting sun, and at the extreme left a lone pine just such a pine as really exist in the north. The smoke from the stacks of the mill curls up and across to the top of the page, making an effective design as well as one true to the picture of any northern saw mill town.

STRIKE ON IN HERRICK'S CAMP

L. W. W.'s have been making things interesting for the Milwaukee Lumber company near St. Maries, Idaho, according to accounts in the St. Maries Record. W. D. Herrick, formerly of this city, and Fred Herrick, formerly of Lac du Flambeau, comprise the Milwaukee Lumber company. The Record says:

The labor troubles which the operators in the woods have been fearing for sometime broke out recently when the men in two of the Milwaukee Lumber company's camps on Alder creek struck.

According to the stories told by the men all of the men in the two camps with the exception of a few quit work. The number of men engaged in the strike is variously given, some of the men placing the number at 120 and others giving the number at from 75 to 100.

According to the story told by the men the strike was a sympathy strike, rather than one for an increase in wages or a change in conditions. They said that the trouble started at George Anis' camp where L. W. W. labels had been pasted on everything, even to the harnesses. Mr. Anis laid this act to two of the men and discharged them at the same time saying that if there were any other L. W. W. members there or their sympathizers, they could have their time. The whole crew stepped up one at a time and asked for their time.

The men went down to the other Milwaukee Lbr. Co. camp, where they were joined by the men working there, all of them quitting work and coming out. One of the men in speaking of the matter said: "We had no reason to quit. We had nothing to complain of but when the rest quit we could not 'scab' on them."

MERIDIAN HIGHWAY TO BOOST RESORT COUNTRY

By Malcolm McKinnon.

Oneida county, of which Rhinelander is the seat, has already one hundred and ten miles of hard surfaced roads, and the county board has already submitted to the voters the proposition of voting bonds to build seventy miles more in order to have the trunk line system complete. Discussion has developed the fact that it is cheaper to build the proposed road than not to build it, and there is no doubt that the voters will approve the issue. Rhinelander will pay more than a third of the taxes to retire the bonds and pay the interest upon them. These roads will connect all parts of the county with Rhinelander and with one another and will connect Rhinelander, via the Meridian Highway, with Merrill and Wausau and farther south.

The vicinity of Three Lakes and Eagle River, which is the county seat of Vilas county, is already supplied with long stretches of good road, partly because of the state aid spent hereabouts in the last five years and partly because the Three Lakes township voted and spent twenty thousand dollars of money raised by a township bond issue. The county bonds will serve to fill in the gaps of these roads so far as surfacing is concerned.

A very important improvement also contemplated by the Oneida county bond issue is the building at once of a road direct in a north-westerly direction from Rhinelander to Minocqua, so that Meridian Highway tourists may get back and forth easily between those points. This will be of the greatest importance to Minocqua and its vicinity, a resort region of equal attraction with that of Eagle River and Three Lakes, and will make Rhinelander more than the hub of travel in the Big Woods district. An improvement of the roads in Vilas county similar to that in Oneida county will make all parts of this territory accessible by motor car, on a good road, at all times of the year. Long stretches of good road already abound in Vilas county. That such a condition should be on the eve of realization is remarkable, in view of the fact that scarcely more than a quarter of a century ago this whole country was a wilderness and land now worth a hundred dollars an acre was being begged at a dollar and a half and two dollars.

Frank E. Parker, of Rhinelander, county highway superintendent of Oneida county, spoke Wednesday night at a Meridian Highway meeting under the auspices of the Three Lakes Meridian Highway Association in the Woodmen hall at Three Lakes, after I had discussed Meridian Highway plans. He talked on the bond issue and displayed a map of the county to show what the completion of the road system would mean. Farmers had come through the snow to the meeting, so great is the interest in highway development in that neighborhood. Many of the farmers in that vicinity are of Polish birth or descent and they seem a highly intelligent and progressive class. There are few rich people in this new country, but the development of this region, in an agricultural and dairying way and as a summer resort, is making the entire community, through its enterprise and industry, well-to-do.

Down at Madison, Oneida county is ably represented by Senator W. T. Stevens of Rhinelander, who is known all over Wisconsin as "Bill" Stevens. He is going to see that Oneida county gets its share of Federal aid in Wisconsin is to go on trunk line or cross state roads, according to the decision of the Highway commission, which is expected to give the locations for the improvement for the next five years at its meeting next week in Madison.

There will be backroads through the Big Woods country in a few years and it will be connected with all the middle west and south by means of the Meridian Highway. Oneida county has adopted the paid system of maintaining its paved roads. Crews are to work upon them six days in the week, rain or shine, all next summer. Commissioner Parker declares the six days a week plan is the only effective way of getting the work actually done.

WONDERFUL NEW STUMP PULLER

J. O. W. Danielson, a well known lumberman of this city, is financially interested in a Bayfield company formed for the manufacture of a stump puller, which is said to eclipse any machine of the kind on the market. A model of the machine, which was invented by F. S. Blackmar of Bayfield, is on exhibition at the Lewis Hardware company's store.

Regarding the machine the Bayfield Progress states the following: The machine was near perfection a year ago and it had been listed as one of those to accompany the state land-clearing special train on its demonstration tour last May. Faults in construction spoiled that plan, much to the regret of the makers and still more to the regret of the managers of the tour, who realized even then that the Blackmar was sure to be the machine for the land clearing business. During the summer and fall the apparatus has been brought to perfection and the manufacture will be started forthwith. On this coming season's tour of the land-clearing special there'll surely be one of these Bayfield machines, and there's not a particle of doubt that it will find tremendous favor with such as see it in operation.

cription of this machine will read about as follows:—It's a drum-and-puller with a 7 h. p. gasoline engine as its motive power. Constructed in accord with most recent plans, the biggest machine of the three sizes that are to be put out will weigh about 1,600 pounds. This weight and the 700-pound engine are mounted on platform with great compactness and in manner that makes the whole easily portable from place to place by draft of one horse. The pulling power of the apparatus is truly amazing and no stump that ought to be pulled can possibly stand against its steady drag. The operating mechanism is such that 80 revolutions of the main shaft produces but one revolution of the drum. That statement would seem to indicate slowness of operation. Such, however, is not the case, the operation being very rapid. In actual pulling the drag on the cable is from 5 to 10 feet per minute. Once the stump is out of the earth it can be dragged to the stacking place at speed of 250 feet per minute. Immediately the stump has been derrieked to the pile for burning the rehaul attachment takes the cable and returns it at speed of 100 feet per minute to the workers who attach it to another stump.

THE DOMINANT MOTOR CAR VALUE

THINK back three years — when the Maxwell Motor Company was organized. You read the announcement then—this Company would produce a high-grade automobile—make it complete—as the public wanted it—and sell it at a very moderate price.

We asked your confidence at that time—asked you to wait and see the result. The first car was an innovation—was an unheard of value in the motor car industry.

The Maxwell Car made good from the first—and it has steadily been improved. When we had made it exactly as we wanted it—as you wanted it—the price at which we sold it was everywhere conceded to represent the utmost value that could be obtained in any motor car.

All this time, the Maxwell organization was improving its manufacturing process—was standardizing every part of the car—and today the new price, $635, is the result of close adherence to the Company's original plan.

Our materials are purchased in large quantities at advantageous prices,—our parts are manufactured in enormous quantities—our whole organization is efficient. There is no wait—no loss of time, labor or materials. The Maxwell is a "standardized" organization.

And now, people are realizing that a product may be "possible" for the Maxwell Company—and impossible for others.

They are realizing that the Maxwell ideal is being fulfilled to the letter.

And they are coming to Maxwell dealers by the thousands to buy Maxwell Cars—and demanding them immediately. Never in the history of the great success of this Company has the demand even approached the mark that is now being set.

"How little the average person realizes the wonderful change that has come about in the last few years in the occurrence of contagious diseases," said a prominent up-state physician while he was in a reminiscent mood.

"Why, when I started practice, about twenty years ago, in the town I now live in, I used to call on as many as fifteen to twenty typhoid cases in a single day. Now I don't see that many in the entire year. The cases simply do not exist in any numbers any more.

"The changed conditions in our town were brought about by the installation of a suitable filter plant for our water system. Incidentally, it is a significant fact that the installation of that filter was secured by the insistent agitation of one of the local physicians. The public wasn't particularly interested in the effort being made by the doctor to work out their salvation. Indeed, I don't believe that anybody, then or since, ever showed any appreciation whatever of the spirit which animated him, or of gratitude for the saving of lives which he accomplished. If he had merely been selfish, he could have gone on for years collecting hundreds of dollars annually for visiting typhoid patients.

"Of course the public didn't realize their dangerous position. The doctor's work required him to see the cases in sufficient numbers to make it impossible for him to ignore the situation. I'm not claiming undue credit for him. He would have had to be an inhuman monster to have thought of fees first. It does seem, however, that he was entitled to some respect, at the time and some honor afterward, from the thinking part of the population. Instead, he lost some patients as a result of his agitation. Some thought it was improper for a doctor to take an interest in political affairs. Others resented his activities because they were calculated to increase taxes. However, the history of the eradication of contagious diseases has been one of thankless sacrifice of personal interests on the part of some doctor or other."

I never heard of even a monument being erected to the memory of men who died of diseases conquered. Oh, well, the hero said that "virtue is its own reward" probably was right. Perhaps he said "only" it "own."

CARE FOR ASPARAGUS

Hundred Plants Not Too Much for Good-Sized Family.

It is Hardy Plant and Cannot Be Killed by Exposure to Low Temperature—Should Be Top-Dressed Every Fall.

A good patch of asparagus is a nice thing to have. A hundred plants are not too much for a good-sized family. Asparagus is a hardy plant. You cannot kill it by exposure to low temperatures. It should be planted just as soon as the ground can be put in good, workable order in spring, and the sooner it is planted the better chance it will have to grow and give a good yield in a year or two hence. Then after it has once reached the bearing age, it will be good for many years, and give you an annual and valuable crop unfailingly.

The best soil is a light loam. Asparagus will not do well on heavy land. For field culture, spread on as much manure as can be plowed in. Then harrow the ground thoroughly, mark out the rows two feet apart and plant the roots nine inches apart in the rows. It would be better to open a furrow about five inches deep, and set the plants in it, covering them so that the crowns will be two or three inches below the surface.

For the home garden, if the bed is a small one, it may be planted by digging a trench nine or ten inches deep. Fill this with six inches of manure and cover it with soil from the next trench and so on until the bed is prepared. Make down smooth. Mark out the rows 18 inches apart and set the plants six inches apart in the rows so that the crowns will be two or three inches below the surface.

Asparagus being a great feeder, the plants should be top dressed every fall and spring. The top dressing should be done before the plants start to grow. You cannot manure too heavily. To keep down weeds a small dressing of salt may be used since it does not injure the plants. If after the plants grow any of them bear seed, that is little round red berries, it will be better to dig them out and supply their places with others. The second year after planting the bed should yield a few stalks for the table, but not until the third year can a large cutting be made. The more thorough the preparation of the bed at first, the heavier the coating of manure that is applied, and the closer it is kept from weeds, the better the results will be.

PROTECTION FOR SEED CORN

Mice and Rats Kept Away by Construction of "Tree"—Ears Are Held in Place by Nails.

Where mice and rats are a problem on the farm, seedcorn may be protected by putting the seed on a "tree." This consists of a post erected over two boards set on edge at right angles. To keep mice and rats away cut a hole in the bottom of a pan the size of the end of the post and slip it down the post to about two feet from the floor. Nails with small heads or with the heads cut off may be driven at convenient distances about the "tree" to accommodate as much corn as desired. The posts may be made to hold three or more bushels of seed. The ears are attached to the "tree" by driving the butts onto the ends of the nails.—Agricultural College Extension Service, Ohio State University.

COST CONSIDERED IN BUYING

Three Important Factors in Purchasing Machinery or Putting Up a Farm Building.

The farmer should understand when buying machinery or putting up buildings that price is what you pay for a thing. You pay it but once.

Cost is what you have paid for a thing when you are done with it. It includes the original price, running expenses, repairs, depreciation, losses of time and service. Value is what you get out of a thing while you have it. It is measured by the economy of operation, freedom from repairs and trouble and length of life.

GOOD APPEARANCE OF FOWLS

In Marketing Capons Don't Pick Neck, Saddle and Tail Feathers—They Add to Price.

When you have a particularly nice lot of well-finished cockerels of roaster size, try leaving on the neck, saddle and tail feathers, also the feathers on the outer joints of the wings and those from the hock joints halfway up the thigh.

This is the method of marketing capons, and if your cockerels are good enough in quality, some first-class hotels will be willing to pay you a higher price than for chickens dressed in the ordinary way.

BIG COST OF CARELESSNESS

Loss of $45,000,000 Every Year to Farmers and Poultrymen on Account Poor Handling.

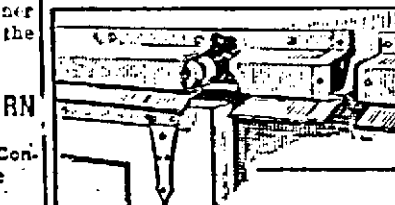

Farmers and poultrymen of the United States lose $45,000,000 every year through bad eggs, and nearly every bit of this loss is due to carelessness. Eggs are left on the nest too long before being gathered, are kept in the house too long before being sent to market, and kept in a warm or in a mold cellar, are carelessly packed and inadequately protected.

Worst of all, because most easily prevented, fertile eggs are produced when every egg ought to be infertile. If the egg contains a germ, it is bound to develop when exposed to heat, and the result is a blood ring. Doctor Rommel of the bureau of animal industry states that at least one-third of the annual loss in the egg industry is due to blood rings.

TRACK PROTECTS BARN DOOR

Two Steel Stampings So Formed and Riveted Together That Sturdy Track Is Produced.

A new track, designed to protect as well as support a sliding door on barn or garage, is being marketed. It consists of two sheet-steel stampings so formed and riveted together that a track of sturdy construction is produced.

Between the stampings, on ridges made in the metal, the trolleys supporting the door ride. Since the various sections of the track are fitted together with lap joints, the entire runway where the trolleys travel is protected from the weather at all times. This is in contrast to the way ice and sleet sometimes make a door inoperative in winter weather, when ordinary track is used. No brackets or joint splices are necessary in erecting this runway, since the stampings are nailed or screwed directly to the surface of the building. The outer part of the track is especially shaped to keep water from running down onto the upper edge of the door and rotting the wood.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

A MUSICAL SURPRISE

The patrons of the Oneida Hotel, through the courtesy of the manager, E. W. Wilkowski, were given a complete musical surprise Sunday evening from 6 to 8 when the Hazel M. Crawford Orchestra was introduced. This organization is a comparatively new one, having been with us but a few weeks, but in this time it has gained an enviable position among the music lovers of this city. Miss Crawford has exercised splendid judgment in the selection of the musicians for her orchestra as was ably demonstrated in the concert Sunday evening. Their program embraced selections from the standard classics and from the popular musical comedies while the ever popular onestep and waltz were also given place. The orchestra was assisted by Miss Alice Schliesmann and Mr. Oscar Nelson, vocalists, both of whom are so well known as to need no introduction. Their efforts met with hearty applause and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large assemblage present.

The hotel management has arranged to have the same organization give a program Sunday evening February 11.

INFERIOR POST CARDS

Because of the great shortage of paper, Uncle Sam has been unable to secure the special kind which he uses in the manufacture of postal cards. For this reason he has been forced to buy in the open market with the result that postal cards are now made of an inferior grade of paper. The color has also been changed from light cream to an almost white and the finish is much rougher.
